TEUTONS CROSS THREE RIVERS

Great Military Move Against Servia Is Under Way.

NEW CLIMAX IN WORLD WAR

Bulgarians and Turks Are Also Ready to Co-Operate With Central Powers, While France and Great Britain Are Landing Men in Greece to Assist Servia.

London, Oct. 8.—Two Russian cruisers are reported to be bombarding Varna, Bulgaria's principal port on the Black sea. A new climax in the world war has thus been reached, fraught with grave consequences.

Across the Danube, the Save and the Drina rivers the Germans and Austrians have sent 400,000 men in an attempt to crush the Servians and cut their way through the kingdom and effect a junction with Bulgaria, with the object of reaching Constantinople and giving aid to the Turkish forces on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Along the Servo-Bulgarian frontier, or scattered at strategic points, are several hundred thousand Bulgarian troops, while farther to the southeast, behind the Tchatalja line, the Turks also may have strong reserves ready to be thrown into battle.

The British and French forces landed at Saloniki are already well on their way along the railway running north from Saloniki to Nish, the Servian war capital, a distance of about 250 miles, to aid the Servs, whether it be against the Austro-Germans or the Bulgarians.

Attitude of Greece in Doubt.

The ultimate stand that Greece and Roumania will take as a result of a change in the situation in the Balkans is not yet known.

Roumania's mobilization continues, but no word has been vouchsafed officially as to whether she purposes to remain in a state of armed neutrality or join one of the contending factions.

The penetration by the Germans of Russian positions before Dvinsk over a width of about three miles is the greatest gain claimed by any of the war chancellors in their latest official reports and would indicate that Field Marshal von Hindenburg, having been held for days along this front, has at last been able to break down in a measure the Russian resistance.

Both the French and the Germans announce slight gains or the repulse of attacks by their forces along the western line, where, except in a few instances of infantry engagements, bombardments have been the chief method of warfare.

The Turks announce that one of three allied torpedo boats which appeared off Geresve Dere, inside the Dardanelles, was set on fire by the guns of the Turks' Asiatic batteries and that the boats then retired.

DAILY MAIL IS OUTSPOKEN

London Paper Scores British Diplomacy in Balkans.

London, Oct. 8.—"The Balkan collapse," declares the Daily Mail editorially, "is the result of a series of diplomatic failures, such as have rarely been recorded in the history of any country."

The newspaper says that in Constantinople the British ambassador, Sir Louis Mallet, who was appointed in 1913, had no knowledge of Turkey or the Turkish language and that neither did any of his three secretaries.

"The position of this embassy was worthy of Alice in Wonderland," the Daily Mail continues, "and there is good reason to believe this embassy typified the British legations at the other Balkan capitals. The minister at Sofia was changed since the war began and few of his staff had been long in Bulgaria, so that King Ferdinand had no difficulty in deceiving them. Dilatory negotiations went on for months while the Bulgarian monarch chuckled in his sleeve at British simplicity."

MAKE ONLY SLIGHT GAINS

British Forces Hammering Away at the Dardanelles.

London, Oct. 8.—In the past month of fighting in the Dardanelles the British have gained on an average something more than 300 yards all along the center of the four-mile Suvla bay front, according to an official statement given out.

The statement was embodied in a report from Sir Ian Hamilton as follows:

"The fighting has not been on a scale calling for special reports.

"Every night there have been patrol actions and bomb attacks and we gained an average of a little over 300 yards along the whole center of the four-mile Suvla bay front."

DECLARES PEACE MUST BE FINAL

King George Has Warm Interview With Premier.

COMPLAINS OF HIS POSITION

British Monarch Asserts He Will Abandon His Throne Rather Than See the Government End the War Before Decisive Results Are Obtained.

New York, Oct. 8.—A passenger returning on the American liner New York, which arrived from Liverpool, gave an account received from an entirely trustworthy source in London of a recent stormy interview between King George and Premier Asquith at Buckingham palace.

The king, it is said, declared that he would abdicate his throne rather than see the British government agree to an inconclusive peace, because "for us an inconclusive peace means defeat."

According to a member of the royal household the king became greatly agitated during an interview with Prime Minister Asquith on last Wednesday.

King George, who usually sits in a chair by his writing table during his interviews with the ministers, kept pacing up and down the apartment the whole while he was talking to Mr. Asquith.

The recent speeches of Mr. Lloyd-George and Mr. Churchill, which have been interpreted by their supporters in the press, notably in the Observer, as suggesting that without conscription the war must result in a draw and the present division of opinion in the cabinet on the recruiting question, were the immediate subjects of the interview between King George and Mr. Asquith.

King Interrupts Premier.

While Mr. Asquith was explaining the reason of this difference of opinion the king interrupted him and said:

"If ever this war ends in an inconclusive and disgraceful peace I shall abdicate the throne. I would never continue to occupy it or allow one of my children to occupy it if such an eternal disgrace and humiliation were to be inflicted on the British empire as a defeat in this war, and for us an inconclusive peace means defeat."

The king's outburst took the prime minister greatly by surprise and he said that no member of the cabinet anticipated or believed that the war would end otherwise than as a complete victory for the allies—the only differences of opinion among them were as to how this end might be quickest and best achieved.

But the prime minister's statement did not satisfy the monarch. King George complained bitterly that his position as a constitutional monarch compelled him to act as if he agreed with the action of his ministers when he might regard them, in fact, as being dangerous to the safety of the country.

GERMANS USING NEW GAS

Prussic Acid Believed Basis of Deep Green Fumes.

Paris, Oct. 8.—A new kind of gas apparently is being used by the Germans in the fighting in the Champagne. Details regarding its effect were given Dr. Lucien Dumont by sufferers he was called to attend in Paris hospitals.

According to the written statements of three men who fought respectively at Souain, Sulpes and Morancourt, they were surrounded for a few seconds by clouds of deep green gas of a rather pleasant odor. These men asserted that soldiers who wore no masks soon were suffocated, while those with masks lost consciousness for varying periods.

It is believed here that Prussic acid is used as the basis of the new gas.

PANAMA CANAL IS CLOSED

Goethals to Blast Off Tops of Hills to Stop Slides.

Panama, Oct. 8.—The Panama canal will remain closed until all danger of serious slides in the Gaillard cut is passed.

Major General George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, issued orders to the dredging engineers to blast away the tops of the hills in order to bring into the channel all loose dirt and thus permanently remove the source of the slides.

General Goethals was unable to say when the canal would again be in condition for the passage of ships, but said he would leave Nov. 1, the date to which the canal has been officially closed, unchanged.

General Goethals, however, expressed the personal opinion that the canal will be closed much beyond that date.

LET'S WELL ENOUGH ALONE

President Wilson's Fiancee Is Not a Suffragist.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Norman Galt, President Wilson's fiancee, is not, like him, an advocate of equal suffrage for women. The coincidence of the president's announcement of his advocacy of suffrage on the same day with that of his engagement resulted in many inquiries as to Mrs. Galt's attitude.

"Mrs. Galt is not a suffragist," said an acquaintance. "Not because she opposes it, but she has never gone very far into any of the issues of the day, believing she was doing very well under present conditions. In fact, she is rather too modest to advocate the advancement of women into the limelight, but is active in her own quiet way in charity affairs."

MITCHELL JUDGE HELD UP

Mitchell, S. D., Oct. 8.—Judge and Mrs. Dick Haney were stopped by a man with a flashlight who displayed a pistol and ordered both to hold up their hands. He scorned jewelry, but took all the judge's money.

Shortly before this a highwayman thought to be the same man took $18 from Frank Wooley, who was escorting a young woman home.

Burglars entered the South Side store and rifled the till of its contents. J. S. Short, who came to Mitchell with a carnival company, has been arrested by the police, and has been identified by Wooley as the man who robbed him.

James Whitcomb Riley Celebrates Sixty-sixth Birthday.

The culmination was a huge banquet held at the Claypool hotel, at which were gathered the foremost literary notables of the United States. They were here to do the great Hoosier poet homage and represented all sections of America.

Mr. Riley, in the best of spirits, but still suffering from paralysis on his right side which has stilled his pen forever, was frequently brought to tears by the heartfelt messages of good cheer brought and wired to him from all parts of the world.

Former Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks was toastmaster at the banquet.

By United Press
"The Red Sox never lost a world series and do not expect to lose this one. The boys never failed us. We make our claims after the game."—Manager Carrigan, Boston.
"If confidence wins ball games then look out. It is no secret that Alexander will pitch first. We are not claiming the series but we expect to win."—Manager Pat Moran, Philadelphia.

Cold Drizzling Rain Greets World's Series

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—A cold, drizzling rain, swept by fitful gusts of wind, driving all to cover except the speculators and baseball nuts standing in line waiting for bleacher tickets, greeted the opening of the world's series. Speculators boosted $3 and $4 seats to $30 and $40 without more than a feeble protest. Speculators swarmed the streets although the police are supposed to have strong aversion to them.

Baseball's Biggest Battlefield

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Boston, Oct. 8.—Baseball's biggest battlefield was cleared for action today, and the combatant Phillies and Red Sox stripped to fighting trim for the conflict that will send another opened to the public. The purchasing committee of the city council, C. H. Smith, chairman, together with the aid of the Brainerd Musical club, will provide easy chairs and other conveniences for the comfort of farmers and visitors to the city who may wish to avail themselves of the room. An effort will be made to have the name of the rest room changed so as to be known as the Public Convenience Station which is the customary title given by the large eastern cities. However, that may be too formidable a name for the west this side of Boston to assimilate and use on the spur of the moment, for the west thinks in shortcuts.

world series hurtling into baseball history.

Seldom in baseball's history have two teams stood on the brink of a world series clash with so much diversity of opinion regarding their relative merit. If it were possible to take an electoral vote of the neutral spectators, it is quite probable the judge would declare a dead heat. The Phillies, piloted by Irish Pat Moran, didn't figure from a team standpoint.

It was Alexander against the Red Sox, not the Phillies, according to fandom's version of the annual drama.

Never has one player, and one alone, carried the burden of his side's offense and defense on his shoulders to such an extent as does the big Nebraskan this breezy October day. "Can Alexander do it alone?"

That question has probably been asked and answered a million times since the vanguard of the world series crowds began drifting into the city. All others faded into insignificance in crowded hotel lobbies and streets. One never heard "What can the Red Sox do?" It was "What can Alexander do?"

Long before daybreak there was a sleepy stream of bleacher fans lined up on either side of the box office window for the coveted tickets. Some intended seeing the annual classic; some didn't. The latter class was taking a long chance of selling the bits of pasteboard for front three to five, even ten, times what they paid for them. Some persons called the scalpers and speculators.

That Alexander will pitch the first game goes without saying, although the tactician Moran has not said so yet. But also Philadelphia's only ace—it can be played, then pulled back and played again, and quite probably again.

It seemed probable this forenoon that Ernest Shore would get the call from Bill Carrigan, although in some quarters it was predicted that Dutch Leonard, Boston's prize southpaw, might be sacrificed.

Baseball men themselves, players and managers, were pretty much divided on the outcome. National leaguers—those who have batted futilely at the writhing slants of Alexander through a long, weary season—are for him, strong. They don't think he can lose. On the other hand, American leaguers, who have worked against Boston's prize trio—Shore, Foster and Leonard—can't see how the American league entry can lose.

One thing that the American League adherents pointed to with much confidence was the result of the recent Detroit-Boston series wherein the Red Sox really won the pennant. They pointed to the fact that Detroit, with Cobb, Crawford and Beach—one of the strongest batting clubs baseball has seen in years—couldn't do anything to the finely balanced staff of Carrigan. And what chance, they queried, has a comparatively weak hitting aggregation like the Phillies got against them.

On the other hand, Philadelphians pointed to the fact, undeniable, that the clan of Carrigan never has faced a pitcher of Alexander's calibre.

At last accounts the arguments stood a draw. It will take the games to decide.

EARTHQUAKES SHAKE FRISCO

Two Distinct Shocks Are Felt, Both Swaying Buildings.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—A well defined earthquake shock was felt here. There were two distinct tremors, both sharp enough to sway buildings slightly and rattle doors and windows. Considerable excitement, especially to strangers in the city, was caused by the quakes, but alarm quickly subsided.

So far as could be learned no damage was done. No reports of the quake were received from outlying sections of the state.

LEMON COLORED BROADCLOTH SUIT, FUR TRIMMED

Designed by Maison Maurice, New York.

FUR collars and cuffs adorn the more pretentious suits for winter, and one of the season's smartest developments is here pictured of lemon colored broadcloth with sealskin collar and cuffs. The skirt is plain and of rather shrunken dimensions, which does not quite compare with the usual wide flare skirt which is now being slightly moderated. The coat is decidedly Russian in effect, and a sealskin band is effectively used on the bottom. This suit has a high, smart scarf collar, bell cuffs and an odd, uneven belt. Large novelty buttons afford smart fastenings. ANNA MAY.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine"

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Eugene Walter's greatest play appears at the Brainerd opera house Saturday evening, October 16, on account of stores being open Saturday night, the curtain will not go up until 8:45 p. m., sharp.

A Southern romantic play of great power and charm, by Eugene Walter from the book of the same name by John Fox, Jr., the author of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," the production has been rendered most vivid in motion and color by a gorgeous scenic embellishment to catch and reproduce the spirit of Mr. Fox's great story, and of Eugene Walter's equally great dramatization. Wholly out of the common it is a play that, for the first time in the history of dramatic art, reproduces scenically and in the spoken play, the very spirit and atmosphere of the people and scenes of one of the most romantic spots in the United States, the interior of the westernmost range of Appalachian mountains.

Mr. Walter has vividly impressed the charm of June's romantic love for Hale in a graphic, dramatic and picturesque manner. He has taken the love story and presented it with vividness, sympathy and enthusiasm, and his conception is at once felicitous and novel, and the execution is in every way worthy of the conception, for every scene has a distinct and individual charm, full of feeling and beautiful imagery.

A splendid cast of New York players will be seen here and the production is a massive one.

Helios Alias Elias.

We may pass as good enough the Russian aviators' reason for making the prophet Elijah their patron saint—his ascent to heaven in a chariot of fire. But there is a curious point in connection with the fact that so many hilltops in Greece are dedicated to and named after Elijah—or, at any rate, after St. Elias—for some will have it that the particular saint thus commemorated is not the Old Testament prophet, but a hermit of the fourth Christian century. It seems pretty well established that in pagan times these hills were sacred to the sun—Helios—and that the name has been neatly adapted to suit Christian requirements.—London Chronicle.

Salome Was Awfully Careless About Veils

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)

Although you have a stunning hat. A swagger suit and things like that. If you're without a veil, you see, Without avail your style will be.

New York, Oct. 8.—What matter if this be a vale of tears if you are all done up in a veil of lace? Who's going to know whether your face is leaking or wearing a smile that won't come off.

Salome was awfully careless about discarding every one of her seven veils at once but the maid today is much more circumspect and never appears without at least one. This headstrong dancer of old was supposed to have quite a collection of these filmy articles of apparel, in fact a corner on the veil market, but any fashionable damsel of 1915 turns up her nose behind one of her fifty-seven varieties and sniffs disdainfully at poor old Sal's paltry seven.

When you take the veil however, be sure and take a smart one. The wide black meshed ones with a deep and intricate black lace border are simply stunning and are worn gathered in closely to a tiny black turban like a skull cap and then flare out like a lamp shade or the full skirt of a premier danseuse.

The question of length is a vital proposition with these new bouffant veils. The more elaborate lace ones fall well down around the wearers' shoulders and burst while others with but a narrow border flare out pliantly just level with your chin.

Many of the smartest hats are made with the veil already attached. It is as vital an adjunct as a flower or a feather.

Beside the lovely black lace ones there are smart taupe, brown and blue ones in a medium mesh with embroidered edges in conventional designs like the Greek key or the Wall of Troy.

The borders for veils of course offer wonderful opportunities for the display of versatility and originality among designers and already we have fringe and fur playing the role of veil edging while metallic borders of galoon or tinsel are used on veils through the meshes of which threads of silver and gold gleam fitfully.

You are to be kidded a lot about your top coat this fall, for the topmost top coats of them all are made of white kid, if you please. Amazingly startling they are too with linings of brilliant green, scarlet, purple or orange. Others of white olecloth vie with the kid effects and linings are more often in serge in these coats than of silk. Grey kid and tan are also shown but naturally the white creations are the newest and most striking of garments. Oh you kid coat, you're bound to get milady's goat if doting hubby doesn't, come through for one.

Leather and kid trimmings are very good for frocks and blouses as well as coats and buttons and bindings of bright colored leathers add up-to-date touches to many a fall and winter toilette.

You simply can't get away from fur however, no matter if you go further and strip the animal of his inner skin. Beaver bandings on seal brown satin or chiffon velvet is one of the loveliest combinations, of the season and you can't go far wrong if you acquire a gown of either or these two materials beaver banded.

Skunk banding on amethyst satin is charming although skunk is mighty expensive this year. They are offering as a substitute, flying squirrel fur, but the effect is hardly a happy one as the flying squirrel is soft and matted looking and undoubtedly would show to advantage only on a galloping horse or—well, say a flying squirrel.

As a matter of fact and good taste an imitation fur banding is worse than none but if you have the price there's really nothing to beat the band this season provided its a real fur band.

GIRL GETS FRENCH CROSS.

Honored by Poincare For Supplying Village With Bread.

When Danian, the only baker in the village of Exodon, department of Deux Sevres, France, was called to the colors the village was without bread. Then Madeleine Danian, the baker's daughter, a slight miss of fourteen, lit the bakery furnace and with the help of her brother of ten tried to make bread. After several failures she succeeded to the satisfaction of the villagers and surrounding farmers and has been working now for many months from 4 o'clock in the morning until late in the day baking bread.

President Poincare has written letters to both children. He complimented the girl on her good humor, courage and industry and conferred on her the cross of Lorraine. He called the boy his "young friend" and assured him he would grow up to be a valiant soldier.

BRITISH PAPERS AIM BLOW AT CENSOR

Daily Mail and Pall Mall Gazette
Flay Officials.

London, Oct. 8.—The Daily Mail asserts that German and Italian newspapers give the name of the British officer in charge of the Anglo-French force landing at Saloniki, although the censor prevents the British public from knowing it. The Mail cites several other instances of this nature, which it terms "absurdities of the censorship," and adds:

"We can state in a very few words the opinion to which we have been forced by fifteen months of experience with censorship.

"Nothing has been done more to lower our reputation abroad for honesty and good sense and nothing done more to delude our people at home, to hide from them the realities of war and dull the edge of their interest in its progress."

Claiming that probably no journal has supported the censorship with more loyal patience the Pall Mall Gazette devotes its leading article to a vigorous denunciation of the manner in which the censorship has been applied.

"Evidences of abuse in the exercise of power by that department have become too glaring to be ignored," says the Gazette. "The legitimate function of the censorship is to blind England's enemies, not England herself."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair, when faded, streaked or gray; also dandruff, itching scalp and itching falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1915

There are 421,762 school children in Minnesota this month and $1,497,255.10 appropriated by the state for the schools for October will be divided among them per capita.

Fire prevention day was changed from Oct. 9, the anniversary of the big Chicago fire, to the 8th, as it would not be convenient for the school children to assist in the celebration on Saturday.

It is now quite generally understood why President Wilson announced a few days ago that he would vote for woman's suffrage at the New Jersey election—not as the head of the nation but just as a private citizen.

Split log drags should be used after rains to be most effective and to get the desired results. If the rule is being applied throughout the northwest roads should be in good condition. We fear, however, that the rains have been more frequent than the application.

All the chandeliers and lighting apparatus, as well as works of art throughout Germany made of copper will be taken over by the government and melted for use in making munitions of war. Only the lighting appliances not in daily use will be taken first but it is stated that soon the government will have to take all the copper in whatever form in that country.

A news item says that Uncle Sam is paying $16,000 per year just to properly address the mail in the St. Paul postoffice, and that the postmaster says that 53 per cent of the mail passing through that office is wrongly addressed. That would seem to be a liberal allowance for the government to make for this purpose, and seems to be out of proportion for the allowance of the delivery of mail in many smaller cities, Brainerd for instance.

The first of its kind is a move at the University of Minnesota to give the students an inkling of financial breakers, the result of a two-year compilation by the employment bureau of that institution which aids on an average 500 students a year to self-support while attending school. The annual minimum expense to a student is $275, exclusive of clothing, vacation expense and all luxuries, this being for all outside of literature and arts and dentistry and the most economical of these students will need from $236.90 to $485.40.

The saloon men of Minneapolis are going to make a fight for a clean city, that is they are going to inaugurate a campaign against blind pigs and clubs that are operating in violation of the laws in selling liquor. If the brewery interests had been wise they would have made it impossible for these places to operate long ago and thereby saved themselves unnecessary trouble. With a new three years lease of life the saloon keepers of Minneapolis are planning to have the liquor business all transacted through licensed channels and if that is done much of the odium that has attached to the mill city in the past will be done away with, for it will then be in the open where police supervision can regulate the same.

The reforestation of state lands is a problem that is taxing the energies of those having charge of this branch of the state service, and it is a matter of much importance to future generations. The state auditor has devised a plan of branding all pine trees on state land less than eight inches in diameter at a point 24 feet from the ground with the letter "S." This will indicate that the timber belongs to the state and must not be cut even when the state sells the other timber surrounding them. This plan will come before the timber board and if it is found that the state has a right to say what timber may and what may not be cut it will be adopted. The growing scarcity of timber makes it a matter of necessity to protect and advance the growth of young trees on the large tracts of land belonging to the state and to advance the reforestation as much as possible. If the same precautions had been observed in years gone by when the timber of northern Minnesota was slashed right and left and only the most choice cuts of the logs were marketed there would not have been as much waste and it would have been to the advantage today, but the same conditions always exist in timbered countries and probably always will.

The announcement of the candidacy of Hon. C. A. Lindbergh for the republican nomination for governor in the primaries next year has brought several prospective candidates into prominence for congressman from the Sixth district, the position Mr. Lindbergh has held for the past eight years. It has been generally known that former Congressman C. B. Buckman of Little Falls, has been considering entering the race for some months and his friends have been talking Buckman for congress in 1916 since early last fall. It is only since the present congressman announced his determination to quit the congressional field for the purpose of entering the gubernatorial race that Mr. Buckman announced his intention, and which probably would not have been made at this time only for the fact that Lindbergh's announcement would have the tendency to bring out others in the district who might have an eye on the place but who would not hasten the scramble until the present congressman's plans were known. Since the Buckman candidacy has been announced through the newspapers it has been reported that Mark J. Wooley, of Park Rapids, and P. H. McGarry, of Walker, are considering entering the list of eligibles. It is said, however, that Mr. Buckman has looked the field over in nearly every county of the district and that the encouragement he received caused him to inform his friends of his decision.

CANADA TO LAUNCH BIG WAR LOAN SOON

Dominion Is Growing Richer Despite Struggle.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 8.—W. T. White, the Canadian finance minister, in an address to the board of trade here, foreshadowed the launching of a Canadian war loan. He said that for the six months succeeding the war Canada's loans had aggregated $200,000,000, or more than a million a day. In the previous five years the Dominion had been borrowing two or three hundred millions a year.

Canada in one year has reversed her trade balance and exports surpassed imports, he said.

"We are growing richer despite the war," the minister added, "and will be able to finance our war expenditures and later, after the war, our domestic enterprises."

"We are now in a position, after a year of war," Minister White said in conclusion, "to go ahead and raise a considerable amount of our own expenditures at home. You will shortly have an opportunity of subscribing for a Canadian war loan."

It is stated in financial circles that the Canadian loan will be $50,000,000 at 5 per cent.

BINGO.

The Blue Heron.
Notwithstanding the nature fakers who write wonderfully unsound natural history, the heron does not spear prey with its bill nor does the loon; it bites them, nips them between the long, sharp mandibles. We have had captive herons and have seen thousands of wild ones all over this continent, and they do not do the silly trash told of them by the nature fakers. Some of the nests are as big as a small haystack, built upon year after year until they reach enormous weights, very often up to 500 pounds.—Outing.

COMPLAINTS THAT ALLIES HAVE MUDDLED SITUATION

By J. W. T. Mason, for United Press

* Complaints which are being made in London that the Allies have muddled the Balkan situation are emphasized by the suggested probability that the king of Greece will be able to organize a coalition ministry. If a successor to M. Venizelos is found who is less radical in international affairs, the outcome will be a serious one for the Allies.

* King Constantine, apparently, has quite decided that Greece shall not begin hostilities against the Teuton powers. He has also concluded, apparently, that because Serbia offered to cede territory to Bulgaria, Greece is released from her treaty pledge to go to Serbia's assistance in the event of a Serbo-Bulgarian war. If a coalition premier can be found who will support the king and who, in turn, can command the support of parliament, Greece will remain neutral unless Bulgaria begins an offensive campaign against her.

* It is unlikely that the Bulgars will attack Greece. Such an act would be contrary to the aims of the Teutons, who want to prevent Greek aid being given to the quadruple entente. Bulgaria, too, in all probability, will have enough to do to operate against Serbia alone. If Greece, therefore, is left alone by Bulgaria, and if King Constantine is able to work his will with the Athens parliament, the peculiar situation which has arisen through the landing of Allied troops on Greek soil may become one of danger.

* For the moment, there is much mystery concerning these troops. It is certain that a French army disembarked, but there is no certainty that a British force has landed as well. There have been veiled suggestions, in fact, that the Paris and London governments are not in complete accord concerning the advisability of violating Greece's neutrality. Serious danger for the Allies exists in the possibility that the new Greek ministry may actively interfere with the use of Greece as a base of operations against Bulgaria and the Teutons.

* The Allies could not attempt to fight their way through Greece if this was to happen. It is possible, therefore, that after the French troops now marching through Greece to Serbia reach their destination, they may be cut off through the positive refusal of Greece to allow supplies to be forwarded to them. The situation might thus become precarious. The Allies undoubtedly have pinned their faith to M. Venizelos. If he is able to force his way back to power, all may yet be well with the quadruple entente, but for the moment it appears as if too much confidence had been placed in the fallen premier.

Unique Labor War Now in Full Swing

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor will make a last ditch fight in behalf of the Chicago union of school teachers. Those influences which oppose the Chicago Teachers' Federation are today preparing their appeal from the temporary injunction restraining the board of education from carrying out the now famous Loeb rule expelling teachers who decline to leave the federation, and compelling all applicants for positions to sign a pledge that they will not become members of any similar organization.

Of course, if the higher court upholds the injunction, making it permanent, the matter will drop there, with a glowing victory for organized labor. If, however, the higher court decides in favor of the Loeb rule, the entire matter will ultimately be decided at the polls.

Members of the board of education are appointed by the mayor. If he continues in office men and women openly antagonistic to the teachers' union, labor has threatened to elect a mayor who will be favorable to the union.

Miss Margaret Haley, head of the union, openly charges that big business is back of the fight, on the federation, which comprises perhaps one half of the 8,000 Chicago school teachers. Important Chicago interests hold, under very favorable terms, school lands in the heart of Chicago's business district. Under a 99-year lease they pay nominal rental on a valuation much smaller than that placed on lands held in title of private individuals, in some instances directly adjoining the school owned lands.

The union school teachers, shortly after organization, moved for higher salaries. When told no money was available, they pointed to low rentals paid for school lands, and to the fact that many large corporations were undertaxed.

"Collect the proper rentals and taxes and the money will be available," they said.

They did more. They went before the legislature and the tax boards. They agitated at public meetings. They even went to State's Attorney Hoyne who is now considering alleged facts which the union leaders want put before the grand jury.

The fight was further complicated by the religious issue, always a factor in the politics of Chicago. Factions appeared in the schools—anti-union against union teachers.

The anti-union majority on the school board struck quick and hard. "Leave the federation or leave the schools," was the order to the teachers. Some obeyed. Some stood pat. Some, who had never belonged to the federation, and really preferred not to join the organization, when pledges were asked that they never would join, flatly refused to sign.

The teachers had won a salary increase, but it was administered by the board. "Sign a pledge to abandon the union or no salary increase," was the dictum. Again the courts were appealed to. Again a deadlock.

Enemies of the federation said: "The union has no place in the schools. It has disorganized the entire system. Teachers are no longer looking to the school head for orders, but to the union head. The teaching force is divided into cliques, and the entire school discipline is endangered."

Union leaders in and out of the schools met this with denials and by counter charges that the fight against the union teachers had been engineered by corporation lawyers and union-baiters who had become alarmed by the disclosures made by union officials of tax dodgers and deals in school land leases and contracts.

Fathers and mothers and even children have been drawn into the fight on one side or the other. There is no such word as neutrality. And the most unique labor war in the history of the central west is in full swing.

Marriage and Mathematics.

"Yes," said the old mathematician, with a gleam in his eyes, "I've always looked at it that way. Marriage is addition; when the little ones come it's multiplication; when dissension looms up to cloud the horizon of their happiness it's division, and when the final parting comes it's subtraction!"

"And how about divorce?" asked the listener.

"Oh, that would come under the denomination of fractions!"—London Telegraph.

G. O. P. TO NAME STRONGEST MAN

Republicans to Exert Every Effort to Win the Election.

WISE HEADS DIRECT PARTY

Many Men Will Go to the Convention With Individual Booms, and Then the One Who Can Get the Largest Vote Will Be Nominated—Favorite Sons on the List.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The Republicans want to win next year—they want to carry the house and senate as well as the presidency—and with this end in view they are going to nominate the strongest man. Meanwhile there will be no discouragement of individual booms, and every man who thinks he can be a favorite son of any state will be encouraged to go ahead, with the idea that when the delegates are assembled in convention wise heads will determine who is the strongest man before the people.

Such an arrangement will not prevent a number of men from trying to get the nomination. It is difficult to convince a man that he is not so strong as the other fellow.

The Personal View.

For instance, no doubt Senator Weeks is confident that he is stronger than Senator Burton, Governor Whitman, Senator Cummins, Senator Sherman, Senator Borah or any of the other favorite sons. Governor Whitman is still of the opinion that a man who carried New York by 145,432 votes in 1914 is stronger than any of the senatorial aspirants. Burton believes that an Ohio candidate will be better than an eastern man, while Sherman no doubt thinks that a man from Illinois who has not created antagonism would be stronger than the others. Then there is Senator Cummins, who believes that a progressive who never left the Republican party would be the man to bring back the bull moosers to the party.

The Best Receiver.

If the Republican party could place itself in the hands of a receiver for a few months probably the best man for the position would be W. Murray Crane, formerly senator from Massachusetts. No doubt a lot of Progressives would object, but the astute Crane would be likely to steer the party wisely at this juncture. If Crane could have held the receivership for a few days at Chicago in 1912 he would have produced a compromise candidate and avoided a split. But there have been only two party receivers or bosses in the past twenty years. Bryan exercised receivership functions for the Democratic party, and Roosevelt was for many years the actual boss of the Republican party.

A Boost For Sutherland.

George Sutherland has realized upon his popularity in the United States senate. Among his fellow senators he is known as a quiet man, able and one of the best lawyers in the body. Everybody likes him. It so happened that many United States senators went to the San Francisco exposition this summer, and they stopped off a few days in Salt Lake City. Interviewed by the ubiquitous reporters, all spoke in high terms of Senator Sutherland. They made speeches or talked to people they had a good word for the Utah senator. Democrats as well as Republicans spoke of him in high terms.

The result is that the people of Utah have awakened to the fact that they have a mighty fine man for senator, which is a very good thing for Sutherland, with the campaign coming on next year.

"The President's Program."

Congressman Byrnes of South Carolina when in Washington recently told how much better the people of his state felt toward England now that cotton has increased in price. Then he went on to say that his people wanted the national defenses improved, adding, "South Carolina people are enthusiastic in their support of President Wilson, and whatever program of preparedness is recommended by him to congress will undoubtedly influence their view on the subject."

As a general thing, many people are standing by the president in the matter of preparation as well as other policies. It will be found that the "president's program" for national defense is not going to be very moderate.

Can Watson Come Back?

Ever since Jim Watson left congress to try for the governorship of Indiana he has been trying to come back. Four years after his defeat for governor he was the Taft parliamentary leader at the Chicago convention in 1912. He is now a candidate for the senate, and his appearance in that field has caused an upheaval in Indiana politics. The Fairbanks people are somewhat alarmed, because Watson is said to be for Senator Weeks for president, and his success for the senate might give Weeks the Indiana delegation. Then there are the Progressives, who are opposed to Watson because he belongs to the "old crowd," and they may not return to the party if Watson is to be one of the chief beneficiaries of the Republican success. Altogether, Jim Watson has made quite a political stir in Indiana.

BAY LAKE NEWS

A few unmarried young people surprised Alvin Nelson Thursday evening and had a fine time. They dressed in odd and fancy costumes.

Mrs. McGuire and Mrs. J. A. Gentry, of Riverton, were callers at Bay Lake Wednesday.

Walter Hultquist, of Chicago, Ill., who stopped off to visit relatives at Shirt Lake, while on his way to California, made a few calls on friends at Bay Lake Wednesday.

While crossing an open field Friday Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith saw a young wolf. Upon their standing perfectly still it slowly trotted toward them and finally laid down about fifteen rods away. Mr. Smith shot at it with a 16-gauge shotgun but of course didn't get it as the distance was too great for so small a gun.

Miss Gladys Hoglund, of Cedar Lake, who has been with the Rutters four months, went home Friday.

Misses Elizabeth and Marie Archibald, Marjorie Smith and little Carlton Sinclair, were Brainerd visitors Saturday. Miss Marie drove their car and found the roads very bad as they came home after the rain and hail storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kibbey and daughter Addie, were visitors at D. L. Young's home Sunday.

Three inches of rain fell Sunday. That is the heaviest rain this summer. Saturday we got rain and some hail. The hail storm was heavier toward Brainerd.

We had a real frost at Bay Lake Monday night. Portions untouched by the early, light frosts were certainly hit by this one, in fact many saw ice in the dishes which contained water and were left out of doors.

Miss Nellie Orr and Robt. Fuller were quietly married last Friday at Brainerd. They thought to escape the long line of congratulating

SEN. CAMPBELL COMING OCT. 16

Prominent Minneapolis Legislator to Attend Meeting of United Commercial Travelers

AIDED TRAVELINGMEN OF STATE

Author of the Law Changing Primary Election from Tuesday to Monday in 1915 Session

The next meeting of the United Commercial Travelers Brainerd council No. 545 will be rendered notable by the presence of Senator William A. Campbell of Minneapolis, senator of the thirty-second district, and one of the prominent U. C. T. men of the state.

He has been elected to the state legislature three times. He is the author of the law for travelingmen changing the primary election from Tuesday to Monday in the 1915 session.

Among the bills he introduced and had passed are the law creating a department for women and children, law providing for inspection and enforcement of sanitary conditions surrounding their employment, law prohibiting the employment of children under sixteen years of age for more than eight hours per day, the mother's pension law, under which over one hundred mothers in Hennepin county are enabled to keep their children at home and remain their guardians.

IT WAS SOME ARGUMENT

"Did St. Patrick Discover Norway?" Argued by Grand Forks Elks at Their Meeting

Debates form a pleasant relaxation in different societies ranging from the two-cornered one in the home circle between Mr. Man of the House and Mrs. Lady of the House as to who gets up on a cold morning and starts the fire, to the rural debate of "Is Fire More Dangerous Than Water," but the Elks of Grand Forks capped the climax by bringing up this subject:

"Resolved, St. Patrick Discovered Norway." On the affirmative side was put a Celtic member, Pat O'Hagan and on the negative a Scandinavian, Nels Haugen. The Hagens and Haugens locked horns in a verbal tilt and the crowd laughed until they nearly dislocated their jaws.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, pursuant to the recent examination held by the public examiner of the city finances, and the accounts kept by the city clerk and city treasurer, it has been found, that the balances shown in the various funds in the ledger account kept by the city clerk has, in a number of instances been found to be incorrect, and that the balances in the various funds shown by the treasurer's ledger have been carefully checked up and found to be correct, and

Whereas, the public examiner in his report under date of July 15, 1915, has recommended that this council by resolution cancel all the balances in the clerk's ledger for the date of April 30, 1915 and adopt new balances as shown by the examiner's trial balances of Mar. 31st, 1915, and

Whereas, the public examiner in his said report has suggested, that the two ledger accounts, "Poor Fund" and "Gravel Fund" be omitted, that the balance in the Poor Fund $22.78 be transferred to the current expense fund and that the Gravel account be treated as an inventory item, and

Whereas, the public examiner has further suggested the taking of a correct inventory of the city's property as of May 1st, 1915, and recommended that an arrangement be made with the county auditor to furnish a correct statement of all special assessments filed after January 1st, 1909, not paid when the March settlement for that year was made,

Now therefore, Be it resolved that the said several recommendations as made by the public examiner be and the same are hereby adopted and ordered to be carried out.

SPINA HOTEL TO CLOSE SOON

Peter Spina, Says Loss of the Bar Does not Make the Hotel Business Profitable

CAPT. PASCOE BUILDING HOMES

Mrs. Fred Markwardt Points Out the Need of Passenger Accommodations at Klondike

Ironton, Minn., Oct. 8.—Peter Spina, speaking of the Spina hotel, said he expected to close the hotel section Monday, Oct. 11. It would not pay him to continue the hotel when the bar had been ordered closed by the Indian agents. Teachers boarding at the hotel were alarmed about losing their home, but to them Mr. Spina said that somebody might take over and continue the hotel business.

Erling Hirsted has finished building a modern cottage for Capt. Wm. Pascoe. He has two more houses under way, one at the Cuyuna-Mille Lac mine and one in Ironton, near Capt. Pascoe's house recently completed.

Eight teachers are now in the Ironton school with 32 pupils each. The principal is A. W. Kirk.

Edward Krueger accumulated $85 by betting on the wet side of the Minneapolis election.

Howard Olts is about to install a lunch counter.

John Mattson, suffering from a second stroke of paralysis, is confined at his home, slowly regaining his health.

Ironton people are said to favor the installation of the Australian ballot system and making it apply to town officers, each to pay a filing fee. Visitors motoring to Ironton Tuesday were Mrs. George Ridley, Miss Nora Barron, Miss Lillian Stearnes and Miss Kit Roman of Riverton. Mrs. Ridley was at the wheel.

Mrs. Fred Markwardt recently went to Brainerd by way of Klondike taking the Northern Pacific train at that point. There were four cars and a wagon there, each laden with passengers for the train. There is no semblance of a platform at Klondike and many are assured that the passenger business at this point warrants some sort of accommodation on the part of the railway. There is a clear step off of over three feet to the first step in the coach and a lady passenger in a tube skirt is in a serious predicament.

A. G. Trommald, of Brainerd, was at Ironton Sunday.

John A. Oberg, of Deerwood, and Henry M. Benson of St. Peter, were at Ironton this week.

Long Prairie visitors in Ironton were H. E. Hart, A. D. Day and C. F. Miller.

Representative Edward R. Syverson spent the week in Duluth.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph E. McCoy were in Duluth Tuesday.

Marshal Frazier was in Brainerd Tuesday on business matters.

ADVISORY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Organizes by Making Thomas A. Edison Chairman.

PLANS $5,000,000 STATION

Resolution Is Adopted Proposing the Establishment of a Great Research and Experimental Laboratory—Regular Meetings Will Be Held Every Sixty Days.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Organization of the navy's new civilian advisory board here with Thomas A. Edison as chairman was followed by the adoption of a resolution proposing establishment of a great research and experimental laboratory to cost about $5,000,000.

It is probable the recommendation will be included by Secretary Daniels in his estimates to be sent to congress this winter.

"The Naval Consulting Board" is the official title chosen by the scientists who compose the new arm of the navy with the approval of Secretary Daniels. It was announced that a regular meeting would be held every sixty days, the next to take place in New York Dec. 8.

Two sessions were held, the first devoted to organization and election of officers and the second to consideration of the research laboratory plan, which, after being proposed by Secretary Daniels, was framed into an elaborate report by Mr. Edison, assisted by Dr. W. R. Whitney, Dr. L. H. Backel, R. S. Woodward and H. E. Coffin.

To Start Specific Problems.

Mr. Daniels was host at luncheon at the Army and Navy club, during which a subcommittee submitted a program for dividing the twenty-three scientists and inventors into committees or groups for the study of specific problems.

It was decided that there should be committees on chemistry and physics, aeronautics, including internal combustion motors, electricity, standardization, torpedoes, mines and submarines, ordnance and explosives, wireless and communication, transportation, production and manufacture, ship construction, steam engineering and ship propulsion, lifesaving appliances, food and sanitation and aids to navigation.

The committees will have been appointed by the time of the next meeting of the board. Each will have as members experts in the subjects with which it will deal.

Although the board will enter upon its task with such facilities as are available at once it will not be able actually to undertake the work contemplated by Mr. Daniels and its members until the research laboratory has been provided.

Plant to Cost $5,000,000.

The report adopted recommended that a laboratory, buildings, grounds and equipment, to cost approximately $5,000,000, should be located on tide-water of sufficient depth to permit a dreadnought to come to the dock, and that it should be near but not in a large city, so that supplies and labor might be obtained easily. It proposes the construction of shops and foundries of various kinds, a motion picture developing department, mechanical and wireless and explosive laboratories and complete drafting rooms.

Secretary, the report says, should be a governing factor of such an establishment, the plant being surrounded with a high fence and a guard being maintained at all hours.

It is estimated that the annual operating expenses of the laboratory would be between $2,500,000 and $3,500,000. The report recommends that a naval officer of rank and efficiency be placed in charge, with a corps of capable assistants. Under these officers, it is suggested, there should be staffs of civilian experimenters, the man working on each problem to have his own corps of assistants and shop facilities.

Salt and Health.

Few persons understand the therapeutic value of salt. A little salt in one's drinking water is "good medicine." Salt applications to the skin are wonderfully soothing and wholesome. There is nothing better as a wash for the throat and the nasal passages to prevent or to cure catarrhal troubles than a solution of common salt in plain water—the cheapest remedy one can find. Many persons give their eyes a daily bath of cold salt water with satisfactory results.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen! mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California" Syrup of Figs because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. —Adv.

LAWSON RELEASED ON BAIL

Mine Workers' Official Freed on Supreme Court Order.

Denver, Oct. 8.—The Colorado supreme court admitted John R. Lawson to bail in the sum of $35,000. Lawson was convicted of first degree murder in connection with strike disorders. He was sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of murdering John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff killed in a riot near Ludlow in October, 1913.

The supreme court several weeks ago granted a supersedeas and writ of error. The question of admitting Lawson to bail was left undecided.

Lawson is a member of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America and was a member of the policy commission of the union throughout the strike.

Lawson has been in jail at Trinidad, Colo., where he was imprisoned after Judge Granby Hillier denied his motion for a new trial. Judge Hillier since has been barred by the supreme court from presiding at future strike trials.
